Crossing new frontiers with the Nissan Qashqai Inexpensive Rameder towbars for the popular compact SUV

Wandering about, always discovering something new, that is the Qashqai's raison d'être, and why the eponymous Nissan has been named after the nomad tribe. Wandering about, always discovering something new – that could well be many a Qashqai owner's holiday activity. And if they should have any space or transport problems, Rameder has a solution. Be it a trailer for extra luggage or a caravan: Europe's leading provider of transport solutions does, of course, have the right removable towbar for the Qashqai, too.

This removable towbar is available in the company's online shop www.rameder.eu including a tailor-made 13-pole electrical kit for only Euro 277.99. With a bearing load of 75kg and a towing capacity of 1,600kg, Qashqai drivers can transport whatever they want.

Of course, Rameder also has a rigid variant with the same technical specs available, which at www.rameder.eu costs Euro 213.99 incl. electrical kit.
