A perfect reception in every situation... With the miniature antenna from Rameder

Often long roof antennas would sort of collide with roof boxes or roof racks and thus must be removed prior to any assembly of such items. But having no music is, of course, not what gets you into the right mood when you go on holiday, say, and time passes very slowly. Rameder, Europe's largest provider of automotive transport solutions, has a trump card up its sleeve, however: the stylish miniature aluminium antenna (€5.95) gives you perfect reception and you can "keep on rocking".

With the screw adapter that comes with it the antenna (only 10cm long) can easily be affixed to any roof base and thus will allow you to receive all the usual VHF and MW stations. So, if on a winter's weekend you venture out into the mountains stuck in a traffic jam, you can at least enjoy radio. You can buy this "magic wand" in Rameder's online shop at www.rameder.eu.

Rameder has a lot of useful and versatile automotive products on offer. If you want to carry bulky loads and bikes or need a towbar and accessories, just check out www.rameder.eu and you will find what you need.
